Professor Teague,

I want to let you know how much we enjoyed your department's production of "Chicago," last Friday evening. My wife and I were caught up in the excitement along with the rest of the audience from the opening scene through the closing of the curtain. However, it didn't stop there. As we were driving to campus this morning, both humming songs from "Chicago," it was clear that we are still captives of the "razzle-dazzle" of that play!

What a way to end the season! Your staff and students deserve high praise for their efforts throughout the year, and especially for this grand finale.

We look forward to next season, and the enjoyment it will bring.

Thanks for all you do for our students and our University.

Jack
